

COVID-19: INFORMATION FOR TRAVELERS ENTERING FRENCH POLYNESIA

Dear traveler,

Welcome to French Polynesia.

As part of the management of the sanitary crisis related to coronavirus SARS-CoV-2, a mandatory health surveillance system for the travelers has been implemented by the country (Arrêté n° 525 CM of May 13, 2020, modified).

Before your departure, you were asked to provide a negative test for SARS-CoV-2 performed during the 3 days preceding the flight, and to fill out a digital health commitment form on the website www.etis.pf.

As the test performed before your departure does not completely exclude the risk that you are infected by SARS-CoV-2, a test will be carried out on the day of your arrival in French Polynesia, for all travelers aged at least 6 years old. This test consists in an oral and nasal swab performed by yourself (see self-test instructions).

- Vaccinated travelers and unvaccinated minors (6-17 years old) traveling with a vaccinated parent or legal representative

- The day of your arrival, if you are staying in any accommodation participating in the surveillance of travelers, as soon as the self-test is performed, you can leave it at the lobby.
- Otherwise, you can drop off your self-test in one of the drop off locations listed in the appendix.

In addition, unvaccinated minors will have to perform two other self-tests, at day 4 and at day 8 after arrival.

- Unvaccinated adult travelers

- If you perform your quarantine in a dedicated site, please give your self-test to the manager of the site.
- If you perform your quarantine at home, you will have to ask a third party to quickly drop off your self-test in one of the drop off locations listed in the appendix.

In addition, you will have to perform two other self-tests, at day 4 and at day 8 after arrival.

Self-tests being carried out as part of a surveillance system, the results will not be communicated to you. However, if a SARS-CoV-2 infection is suspected, you will be contacted by the Health surveillance office of the Direction de la santé.
